Los Angeles City College is the flagship institution of the Los Angeles Community College District. The Los Angeles City College Foundation has served countless students, both young and old, in all demographic groups, as they continue on the road to excellence in education and professionally.

Support for the Gala and LACC is more important than ever due to the current serious budget cuts to institutions of higher education. Private contributions will guarantee students the opportunity to benefit from LACC's high-quality programs and services.

Los Angeles City College was founded in 1929 as a public two-year coeducational facility that offers Associate degrees, non-degree programs, and career training. Currently, LACC serves approximately 18,000 students on one of the most diverse campuses in the United States where more than one hundred languages are spoken every day.
